

MedShield Website Analysis

A comprehensive overview of MedShield's business model, services, customer base, operating workflow and market positioning within the maritime healthcare sector.

What MedShield Actually Does

MedShield is a maritime healthcare management company operating primarily as a B2B partner for shipping companies, cruise operators, offshore vessel operators, yacht companies and marine employers. Rather than treating patients directly, it manages the complete medical lifecycle for crew members, including treatment coordination, claims, telemedicine, legal advisory, budgeting and documentation.

Customers

Primary customers:

- Cruise Lines
- Shipping Companies
- Offshore Operators

What MedShield Is Not

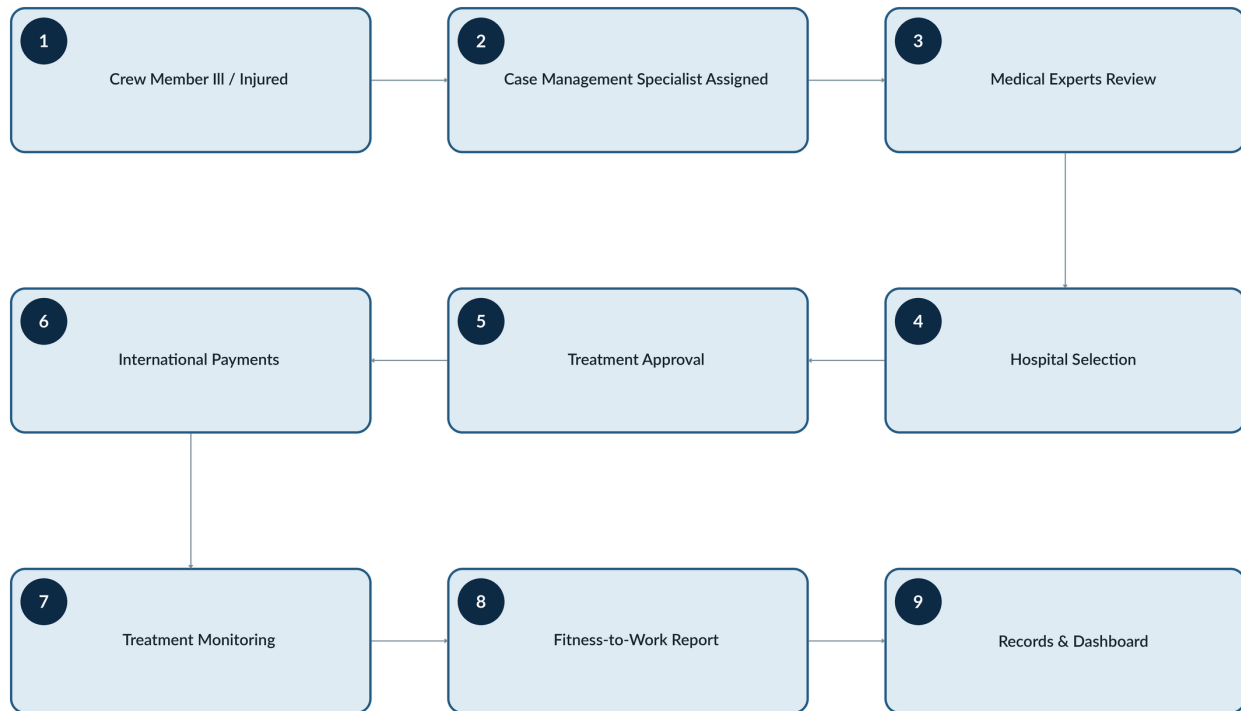

Not a hospital, clinic, pharmacy, insurer, cruise booking company, medical tourism agency or crew recruitment company.

Business Model

An outsourced maritime healthcare operations partner that manages crew medical cases from illness through recovery on behalf of employers.

Medical Case Workflow

The diagram below traces a crew medical case end-to-end, from the initial incident through to case closure and centralized recordkeeping.

Business Relationship Flowchart

MedShield is engaged directly by the employer, not the crew member, and is measured against three outcomes: crew health, cost control and regulatory compliance.
